MALDIVES

Nowhere in the world will you find the whiter-than-white, powder-soft sand that you will discover on the coral islands of Maldives. The tile blend of soft whites awakens a sense of spirituality and contemplation.

KAIKOURA

Snow-capped mountains meet the sea in Kaikoura, a dramatic landscape nestled between the Southern Alps in New Zealand and the Pacific Ocean. Known for its abundant wildlife—including whales, fur seals, and albatross – Kaikoura offers wanderers endless winding coastal walks for sea gazing. This mosaic blend magically captures the combination of earth meeting water through hues of deep blue, gray-blue and soft white.

CAPPADOCIA

For more than a thousand years, people have made their home in the soft rock of Cappadocia, Turkey. The natural-hued blend emulates the dry and rocky plateau of this World Heritage site.

CAYO COCO

Don your swimsuit and flip flops for some epic relaxation in Cayo Coco, a luscious tropical island off the coast of Cuba. Famous for its white-sand beaches, coral reefs, and aquamarine waters, this island paradise entices travelers with the promise of endless surf and sea life adventures. The glass blend transports you to this getaway destination through a combination of whisper-soft whites, blues, aquas and greens.

COCOS KEELING

Australia's last untouched paradise lies in the azure waters of the Indian Ocean, kissed by the sun and caressed by fragrant trade winds. Whisper-soft blues and a hint of gray-green make up this lustrous blend.

KANGAROO ISLAND

Welcome to Australia's Kangaroo Island where landscapes invite you to stop and gaze. The soaring cliffs, dense forests, golden sand dunes and lush wetlands of the island are discernible in this tile blend.

PAMUKKALE

Located in Turkey, this natural wonder is comprised of terraces and travertine formed by streams and hot springs. The tile blends reflect colors of gray stone and icy blue water.

SKYROS

If it's holistic healing you're after, look no further than Skyros, the most remote of the Greek Islands in the Aegean sea. An island of dual personalities, the northern half offers a landscape of green and fertile densely wooded forests while the south contrasts with jagged coastlines and barren scenery. The Skyros glass blend amplifies the beauty found in nature through a blend of gray, white, sea and sky blues, and a hint of green.

SURIN

Rugged and rewarding, Thailand's Surin Islands are an undiscovered, remote escape that draw divers and snorkelers to explore coral reefs and sea creatures. The tile's color palette is reminiscent of Surin's pristine beaches, clear bays and lush jungles.

MOTUO

In a remote region of Southeastern Tibet lies Motuo, a subtropical and biodiverse region often called the "Tibetan Shangri-La"—where Bengal tigers prowl and Takins roam alongside the Himalayas. The glass mosaic blend brings together hues of native teak and sandalwood with the blues, grays and glacier whites seen along the dramatic mountain peaks.

LUCKY BAY

Along the picturesque coast of Western Australia lies a pristine white sand beach with grains of sand so soft and fine they squeak under your feet. The crystal-clear azure waters beacon rich marine life, and there's a good chance you'll spot kangaroos lounging on the beach. This mosaic blend is a study in beautiful blues.

FUJISAN

Coniferous and deciduous trees blanket the lower slopes of Japan's Mount Fuji in a lush green. Above the tree line, in the Alpine Zone, you'll see remnants of past volcanic eruptions, creating a unique and rocky terrain. This mosaic blend captures the connection between the ancient lava landscape and the icy-blue lakes surrounding this arresting scenery.

You journey the world to find it; the place where serenity joins exploration. Where the sea meets the sand and the cliffs meet the clouds, you find an untouched path that sparks transformation.
